Justification of Estimates for Fiscal Year 1991 Submission

Introductory Statement
(Dollars in Thousands)

	FY 1989 Actual	FY 1990 Estimate	FY 1991 Estimate
Appropriation	$25,137,450	$24,559,550	$24,531,600

The request of $24,531.6 million in FY 1991 will support naval operating forces including operation and maintenance of ships, aircraft (including Marine Corps aircraft), weapons and support equipment, as well as the total spectrum of ongoing activity within the Navy support establishment, including a 3.5 percent civilian pay raise effective 1 January 1991.

The budget request reflects realignments between appropriations that: transfer funding for first destination transportation charges; transfer payments for subsistence-in-kind from Military Personnel, Navy; and transfer payments made under the Federal Employees Compensation Act to reflect the decision to decentralize accounting for FECA to the activity level. Funding for installations of modernization equipment was transferred to the procurement accounts in FY 1990.

Two new activity groups entitled Claims and Other Court Directed Activities and Military Construction Support have been established. The first includes funding for Navy Claims, and hazardous waste handling and disposal and injury compensation arising from claims submitted under the Federal Employee Compensation Act (FECA). Funding for Navy Claims was realigned out of Base Operations Support to a more appropriate activity group. The other changes are a result of realignment of programs from other budget activities. The Military Construction Support Activity Group includes equipment to outfit new construction facilities. Keywords: Military Budgets, Naval Operations, Aircraft, Weapons, Marine Corps Aircraft, Fleet Ballistic Missile (FBM), Strategic Forces. The Strategic Forces budget activity provides for the continuing operation and maintenance of the Navy's Fleet Ballistic Missile (FBM) Force (nuclear submarines, supporting tenders and launch area support ships) and the maintenance and modernization of their strategic weapon systems. In addition, resources also support the TRIDENT submarine life cycle logistic support system and the TRIDENT refit program, base operations support, and operations of naval space systems and strategic communications. FY 1991 program increases in Strategic Weapons Systems and the TRIDENT program reflect delivery of a TRIDENT II submarine and the further development of the submarine base at Kings Bay to support the TRIDENT II submarines and D-5 missiles. The Ship Maintenance program increase is due to a transfer from the Strategic Weapons Systems program for intermediate level maintenance support of the D-5 weapon system. Finally, the augmentation in fleet support is for the Strategic Communications program and reflects the transition of TACAMO squadrons from the EC-130 aircraft to the E-6A aircraft and the aircrew training for the new aircraft.

TRIDENT Submarine Life Cycle Logistic Support System (JS)

General Purpose Forces. The mission of the Navy's General Purpose Forces is to provide combat ready fleet forces capable of conducting strike operations and ensuring control of the sea and air in event of war, and to maintain a network of shore installations and commands. These forces deploy to the Indian Ocean, Northern, Eastern and Western Pacific, North Atlantic, Central and Eastern Mediterranean, Caribbean, and Central and South American regions.

Funding for Tactical/ASW, Fleet Air Training, Fleet Air Support and Ship Operations increases in FY 1991, primarily due to increased fuel prices and Stock Fund rate changes. FY 1990/1991 TACAIR/ASW aircrew manning for Navy and Marine Corps has been adjusted to 98%. Ship Maintenance and Modernization funding has a net decrease in FY 1991. FY 1991 Ship Operations and Ship Maintenance programs reflect the funding impact of force structure changes as well as the impact of fuel price increases and stock fund and industrial fund rate changes.

Fleet Support includes funding for special combat forces, construction operations, fleet electronic command and control, and undersea surveillance. Special Combat Support funding includes the operation of twelve additional Landing Craft Air Cushion (LCAC) in FY 1991. Fleet electronic command and control funding in FY 1991 reflects full-year operations of the first operational Relocatable Over the Horizon Radar (ROTHR) site at Amchitka, Alaska. Undersea Surveillance funding provides for the activation and operation of two additional TAGOS ships and related data extrapolation in FY 1991 and increased ship operations support for Sound Undersea Surveillance System (SOSUS) classified projects and classified project expansion. Cruise Missile support funding increases in FY 1991 as more recertifications are required.

Funding for Base Support reflects a one-time increase in FY 1991 for Maintenance of Real Property (MRP) to reduce the growing backlog of critical maintenance and repair. Base Operations Support funding increases in FY 1991 for new requirements resulting from strategic homeporting and a fully operational ROTHR site.

Funding for detection and monitoring activities in support of the drug interdiction program was previously reflected in this budget activity. Starting in FY 1991, these funds are budgeted in the central DoD counter narcotics account for transfer back to this account during the year of execution.

Intelligence and Communications. These programs provide for collection, analysis and dissemination of intelligence, meteorological and oceanographic data and communications support for the naval community. The FY 1991 program reflects increased funding for AUTOVON and AUTODIN rates. Also included is a significant increase to reflect renegotiation of the lease of "LEASAT" satellites, and the addition of three new oceanographic ships to conduct deep ocean and coastal surveys in support of naval operations.

Airlift and Sealift. The Strategic Sealift program provides the ability to store and rapidly move supplies and equipment overseas on cargo ships and tankers to potential areas of deployment, and ensures that strategic sealift ships, cargo offload systems, and theater logistic systems provide a smooth flow of materials to support combat operations worldwide. The increase in this program over the FY 1990 level is attributable primarily to pricing adjustments.

Central Supply and Maintenance Activities. These programs provide supply, maintenance, technical and other logistic and acquisition management support to the operating forces.

The FY 1991 program reflects two significant changes in funding responsibility. Funding for Central Supply Operations and Inventory Control Operations transfers to the DON Stock Fund, whose customers will now reimburse the cost of these operations through the surcharge on Stock Fund sales. Additionally, responsibility for Navy Subsistence-in-Kind payments (the purchase of food for military members) transfers from the Military Personnel, Navy appropriation to Operation and Maintenance, Navy in FY 1991.

Modest program increases reflected in the FY 1991 request include additional funding to reduce the executable depot maintenance backlog in aircraft rework, and other weapon systems and equipment rework. Additional funding is also included for the annualized cost associated with the conversion of contracted advisory and assistance services to in-house-performance in order to reduce the risk of compromise to the acquisition process. Funding levels for non-depot maintenance programs decline, even without considering the impact of inflation.

Training, Medical and Other General Personnel Activities. These programs provide training and education, health care, and related support to Naval personnel.

The FY 1991 request for training programs includes quality upgrades to the Naval Academy and service schools, and development of new "A" and "C" school courses.

Total medical program funding is relatively level from FY 1989 to FY 1991 at $2.0 billion. The CHAMPUS estimate is based on CHAMPUS workload projections and includes savings resulting from CHAMPUS reform efforts, realignment of funding to in-house performance, and various health care contracting initiatives. Funding for these contracts increases by $108.0 million in FY 1991. The additional in-house support personnel provided by Congress in FY 1990 ($50.0 million) are retained in FY 1991, again resulting in equal offsetting savings.

Administration and Associated Activities. This program includes funding for staff offices of the Secretary of the Navy and the Chief of Naval Operations, and provides service-wide support in the financial, legal and personnel areas.

FY 1991 programs reflect increases associated with the direct payment for water and sewage disposal from Naval District Washington to the District of Columbia, increased rental payments to General Services Administration, the overhaul of the USS CONSTITUTION, and Phase I implementation of the Real-time Automated Personnel Identification System for Reserve and National Guard activities, offset by the decentralization of payment under the Federal Employees Compensation Act (FECA).

Support to Other Nations. This budget activity provides funding for the Latin American Cooperation Program, emergency medical travel for certain Navy personnel and their families, the Technology Transfer Program and the Unified Commanders' cooperative programs and exercises with friendly nations. The FY 1991 program reflects additional support for USCINCPAC cooperative programs with friendly nations and USN hosted conferences sponsored under the Latin American Cooperative Program.

Special Operations Forces. The Special Operation Forces (SOF) budget activity supports the operation of seven SEAL Teams, two Swimmer Delivery Vehicle (SDV) Teams, two Special Boat Squadrons, two Special Warfare Groups, five forward based Special Warfare Units, the Naval Special Warfare Command, the Naval Special Warfare Center, and the Navy's portion of the Joint Special Operations Command. Additionally, this program provides for maintenance of various specialized equipment and facilities used by Naval Special Forces. FY 1991 funding has been transferred to the United States Special Operations Command (USCINCSOC) which is assuming management responsibility for the SOF unique portion of the program.

Navy Industrial Fund (NIF) and DON Stock Fund (DONSF) Support. This program provides passthroughs and rebates to/from NIF/DONSF based on prior year losses/gains. Commencing in FY 1991, a direct NIF appropriation, rather than passthrough and rebates, will be used to adjust prior year operating gains/losses.

Department of the Navy

 OP-05 Exhibit Addendum

Amounts transferred from Navy Stock fund to provide support for Fleet Marine Force equipment maintenance/replenishment of equipment requirements. Equipment maintenance support for new equipment fielded in previous years does not reflect adequate funding. All echelons of maintenance would be degraded without this funding, creating a maintenance backlog and increased deadline rates. Combat service support for directed exercises would be curtailed by a sharp reduction in the amounts of self-service items provided. Estimates include 1st-4th echelon maintenance costs, POL, and replacement and replenishment of Table of Equipment (T/E) items. (Reference Congressional Record - House, H8366 of 13 November 1989, Section: Marine Corps Operation and Maintenance.)

Explanation of Changes

- FY 1991 06M,N decrease reflects a reduction in the purchase of supplies and materials and reduced printing requirements associated with fever command initiated external/community affairs activities.
- FY 1991 MPN decrease is associated with reduction of public affairs personnel at the Norfolk PAO, CINCPAC and CINCUSNAVEUR as a result of the Vander Schaaf study.

control, guidance, navigation, test and instrumentation, and missile sub-system.

Systems Engineering - The FY 1991 increase provides for advance system accuracy evaluations, engineering assistance for test firings and evaluations, analysis of pre-launched, powerflight, and re-entry systems, data reduction analysis of missile flight and tracking data for the deployment of the TRIDENT II (D5) Strategic Weapon System. This support is vital to the D5 Operational Test (OT) program which is critical for the confidence level of the D5 Strategic Weapon System. The Operational Test missile flight program will begin in late 1990 and will be conducted in a manner similar to TRIDENT I. These tests will provide data on weapon system reliability and accuracy to the Joint Chiefs of Staff and to the Unified and Specified Commanders. They will be conducted by the Fleet Commander, with technical advice and management provided by Strategic Systems Programs. An integrated test plan will ensure that OT's will exercise the missile over the full range of capabilities.

I. Narrative Description

This package addresses those Navy military personnel who (1) are assigned to specific operating activities; (2) are in duty status at activities where no Navy operating funds are provided, and (3) are assigned for duty at International Headquarters commands.

II. Summary End Strength (E/S)

Transients - Includes active duty military personnel in the following categories: Manpower which is enroute between duty stations on Permanent Change of Station (PCS) orders including all travel, leave, proceed, and temporary duty performed prior to being gained on-board at the new duty station. Transient manpower requirements, along with the other manpower accounts included in the Defense Planning Programming Category of Individuals, reflect the manpower which is unavailable to fill unit manning spaces in the forces.
